2016-02-09 Nebula Maintenance

On Tuesday, February 9th from 8:00am through 11:59pm on Wednesday, February 10th the Nebula OpenStack cluster will be entirely unavailable for a major network upgrade.

We will work on:

- Software and security updates
- Upgrading all switches and cabling to 10GigE
- Compartmentalization of services to improve network performance

The entire cluster will be down and unavailable, including instances. Everything will be restored to its state at the time of shutdown.
